He thought of the spring of water that had run from the broken earth..He knew now, from Elehal and others on Roke, what that wall was. It lay between the living and the dead. Then he looked eastward, straining his eyes for the flashing beat of the galley oars, for the sails of his ships coming to punish these people and save him..and said gently, confidentially, "I'm sure you can find the great lode"..saw that his companion was in distress, and said, "I'll get you out of here. He had with him a boy of fifteen, Mote, a promising weatherworker who needed training at sea, and Sava, a woman of sixty who had come to Roke with him seven or eight years before. Sava had been one of the women of the Hand on the isle of Ark. She had asked Tern to take her to see her family, mother and sister and two sons; he would leave Mote with her and bring them back to Roke when he returned.
